FACULTY

Ryan Acomb, a partner in the New Orleans office of Porteous Hainkel & Johnson LLP, serves on the firm's management committee. He practices insurance defense, specializing in transportation, marine, and extra-contractual litigation. Mr. Acomb is past president of the New Orleans Association of Defense Counsel and former chair of the Automobile Law Committee of the ABA-TIPS. He is listed in the Best Lawyers in America and Louisiana Super Lawyers.

Nancy Burnett is the acting associate director of the Office of Minority Women and Inclusion at the Federal Housing Finance Agency in the Washington, D.C., metro area. She is the president of the Alliance of Securities and Financial Educators, serves on the DC Social Innovation Project Board, and teaches graduate students at Georgetown University. Ms. Burnett is a steering committee member for DRI's Diversity Committee.

Douglas K. Burrell is a partner in the Atlanta office of Drew Eckl & Farnham LLP. Mr. Burrell has extensive bench and jury trial experience and has argued numerous motions and appeals. His general civil defense litigation practice emphasizes wrongful death and catastrophic injury, commercial litigation, transportation/trucking law, and product liability matters. He is the chair of DRI's Diversity Committee and a member of the ABA, the Georgia Defense Lawyers Association, and the National Bar Association.

Sydney C. Calloway is an AV-rated equity partner with Shutts & Bowen LLP in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. He co-chairs the firm's government affairs practice group. A trial lawyer focusing on complex commercial and business litigation, Mr. Calloway has more than 23 years of legal experience. He is a well-known advocate in the areas of diversity, professional development, and mentoring.

Pamela W. Carter, founder of the Carter Law Group LLC in New Orleans, focuses on personal injury litigation, with an emphasis on trucking and transportation, premises liability, insurance defense, and product liability. Ms. Carter specializes in general litigation, including wrongful death, slip and falls, lead paint cases, wrongful death, and food contamination matters. She has also handled hundreds of claims involving exposures to toxic substances. Ms. Carter is the vice chair of DRI's Diversity Committee.

Sean Carter is a lawyer, author, comedian, and self-described "Humorist at Law" with Lawpsided Seminars in Mesa, Arizona. He has provided his unique brand of CLE (comedic legal education) for more than 250 bar associations, law firms, and in-house corporate legal departments. His programs run the gamut from legal ethics to professionalism to diversity to corporate compliance, yet they all have one thing in common—humor, and plenty of it.

Elizabeth S. Fitch is a founding member of Righi Law Group in Phoenix. A trial lawyer with 22 years of insurance defense experience, she handles complex tort and contract cases, and has the AV-preeminent rating. She has been featured twice in Attorney at Law Magazine. Ms. Fitch is the past president of the Arizona Association of Defense Counsel and is currently spearheading its women's empowerment initiative. She has co-authored articles on mentoring and rainmaking essentials.

Franz Hardy, president of the Asian Pacific American Bar Association of Colorado and board member of the Center for Legal Inclusiveness is a trial attorney with Gordon & Rees LLP in Denver. His practice focuses on commercial and insurance litigation, including business disputes, employment matters, real estate, insurance coverage, and ERISA. Mr. Hardy is recognized as an accomplished professional liability practitioner, with a successful record representing dozens of attorneys and law firms. He has tried several cases to verdict and handled many appeals.

Pat Harris is the senior vice president and chief global diversity officer for McDonald's Corporation in Oak Brook, Illinois. She is responsible for developing and implementing diversity strategies throughout McDonald's Corporation worldwide. Under her leadership, McDonald's has been recognized for its commitment to inclusion and diversity, including Fortune Magazine's "Top 50 Places for Minorities to Work," Black Enterprise Magazine's "Top 40 Companies for Diversity," Latina Style Magazine's "Best Companies for Latinas," and the "Disability Diversity Award" from Worklife Matters magazine.

Chauntis T. Jenkins, a partner in the New Orleans office of Porteous Hainkel & Johnson LLP, has an extensive general litigation practice with an emphasis in insurance coverage and defense, bad faith, and special investigation matters. Ms. Jenkins is co-chair of the Louisiana State Bar Association Diversity Committee. Ms. Jenkins also serves as judge pro tempore in civil district court for the Parish of Orleans.

Linda M. Lawson is the managing partner of the Los Angeles office of Meserve Mumper & Hughes LLP. She represents insurance companies in matters relating to life, health and disability coverage and ERISA. She also represents management in employment-related litigation involving wrongful termination, sexual harassment, and employment discrimination. Ms. Lawson is currently a member of DRI's Law Institute, DRI's Employment and Labor Law Committee, and is a past chair and current member of the Life, Health and Disability Committee.

Tanya M. Lawson, a partner at Sedgwick LLP in its Fort Lauderdale, Florida, office, defends clients in product liability, toxic tort, commercial, and employment litigation matters. Co-chair of her firm's Diversity Committee, she plays an instrumental role in planning and coordinating the firm's annual diversity retreat and symposium and avidly supports pipeline efforts aimed at increasing diversity in the legal profession.

Yvette Lewis-Molock is assistant general counsel at Xcel Energy in Denver. Her primary practice is in tort liability, commercial litigation, and tax law. Ms. Lewis-Molock is an active member of the Campaign for Legal Inclusiveness and Xcel Energy Inc.'s legal department's Employee Excellence and Equality Committee (Triple E). She is also a member of the Colorado State Bar and the CBA Section of Litigation.

Melanie C. Lockett, an associate with Lowe Stein Hoffman Allweiss & Hauver LLP in New Orleans, focuses on commercial, civil, and general litigation. Her insurance defense practice includes commercial liability, professional liability, and coverage matters, and her notable success includes thwarting efforts to expand an insurance agent's duty in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina. Ms. Lockett is a Diversity Expo co-chair for this seminar.

David V. Lorenzo is chair and founder of Valtimax Consulting in Aventura, Florida, a business strategy firm. Mr. Lorenzo originally founded the firm as Rainmaker Lawyer Consulting and then expanded the firm's focus to attorneys, physicians, and independent professionals in 2012. He is a member of the Eleventh Judicial Circuit Grievance Committee "N" of the Florida Bar. His latest book is Client Attraction Secrets for Lawyers. (James Publishing, March 2012)

Todd S. Manuel is senior counsel with Entergy Services Inc. in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. A member of the company's litigation team, he represents its interests in casualty and commercial matters. Previously, Mr. Manuel was a partner with one of Baton Rouge's oldest law firms, serving on its executive committee and as chair of the diversity committee. He is the program vice chair and Diversity Expo co-chair for this seminar.

Judy Perry Martinez is the vice president and chief compliance officer for Northrop Grumman Corporation in Falls Church, Virginia, and also serves on its Diversity and Inclusion Leadership Council. Within the ABA, she has served on the Board of Governors, the Section of Litigation Council, and the Commission on Women in the Profession. Ms. Martinez served as ABA representative to the United Nations. She currently chairs the ABA Standing Committee on the Federal Judiciary.

Laurie K. Miller is an attorney in the Charleston, West Virginia, office of Jackson Kelly PLLC. She practices in the firm's pharmaceutical, toxic tort, and product liability practice group and is also experienced in commercial litigation, medical liability, and nursing home/long-term care defense. Ms. Miller is the program chair for the 2014 DRI Women in the Law Seminar.

Shawn Oller is a shareholder in the Phoenix office of Littler Mendelson PC. He has practiced management-side employment and labor law exclusively for 17 years and is licensed in Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona. He served on the firm's Diversity and Inclusion Council for several years, as well as on its Associates Committee.

Mary K. Peyton is a partner with Blue Williams LLP in Metairie, Louisiana, where she has practiced for over 13 years. In addition to chairing the firm's Diversity Committee, she represents clients in pre-suit panels, trial litigation, state board complaints, and appellate proceedings. In her professional liability practice, she represents physicians, ophthalmologists, dentists, hospitals, nursing homes, and other allied health care personnel. She is experienced in commercial and general casualty litigation. Ms. Peyton is the program chair for this seminar.

Robert L. Shannon, Jr., a senior partner with Hall Booth Smith PC in Atlanta, focuses on complex litigation, transportation, toxic exposure, professional liability litigation, banking matters, international trade issues, product liability, and internal investigations. He has served as lead or co-counsel in a variety of complex matters, including multidistrict litigation and class actions in both federal and state courts. Mr. Shannon is a former co-chair of the Georgia State Bar's diversity program.

Benjamin F. Wilson is the managing principal of Beveridge & Diamond PC in Washington, D.C., the nation's oldest and largest environmental law firm. He represents corporations, developers, and municipalities. Mr. Wilson serves on the board of trustees of the Environmental Law Institute, Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, and Dartmouth College. He founded the D.C. Diverse Partners Network and the African-American Managing Partners/General Counsel Network.

Mica Nguyen Worthy is an associate with Cranfill Sumner & Hartzog LLP in Charlotte, North Carolina, focusing on construction litigation. She is a member of the firm's Diversity Committee. Her career started in workers' compensation, where she developed a book of business in just two years, handling more than 100 cases, of which 99 percent came directly from clients. Ms. Worthy is the founder and the immediate past president of the Mecklenburg County Asian Pacific American Bar Association.
